DOES IT PAY TO GROW RASPBERRIES?

To show whether it does pay to grow raspberries or not, I will give the yield from half an acre grown the past season.—The plot contained originally 727 plants, of which number from thirty to sixty were killed out the first year by hilling up. The soil was composed of yellow sand and a loamy, heavy sand, with a clay bottom, on part of the plot; the variety, Seneca Black Cap. There were picked for market over forty bushels of berries, which sold for over four dollars a bushel, besides several bushels of which no account was made. What were picked for market were grown where it was sandy bottom.

On the clay bottom there were from twenty to thirty bushels of berries which were left unpicked from being so dry as to be worthless. There was not enough rain, but once, after they had blossomed, to reach half way down to the roots; but with the lack of moisture, had the plot been thoroughly cultivated, the loss of berries would have been small, but there was nothing done to them after they were hilled up in the Spring.

No one need expect to grow good crops of berries without giving them proper care. In a favorable season, with proper cultivation, one hundred bushels of berries can be grown on the same plot where only a little over forty bushels were sold this year. If any one doubts that the above yield can be grown on half an acre, I would advise them to visit different growers and see the different crops, and I think they will have, then, all doubt removed. But such yields are not required to make it pay. Even fifty bushels per acre pays a great deal better than a crop of corn. But every one who has a rod of land should raise enough for home use.—Cor. Practical Farmer.

CARE OF HORSES.

The London "Horse Book" says: "All horses must not be fed in the same proportions, without regard to their ages, their constitutions and their work; because the impropriety of such a practice is self-evident. Yet it is constantly done, and is the case of diseases of every kind.

Never use bad hay on account of its cheapness, because there is not proper nourishment in it.

Damaged corn is exceedingly injurious, because it brings on inflammation of the bowels and skin diseases.

Chaff is better for old horses than hay, because they can chew and digest it better.

Mix chaff with corn or beans, and do not give the latter alone, because it makes the horse chew his food more and digest it better.

Hay or grass alone will not support a horse under hard work, because there is not sufficient nutritive body in either.

When a horse is worked hard its food should chiefly be oats—if not worked hard its food should chiefly be hay—because oats supply more nourishment and flesh making material than any other kind of food; hay not so much.

For a saddle or coach horse, half a peck of sound oats and eighteen pounds of good hay are sufficient. If the hay is not good, add a quarter of a peck more oats. A horse which works harder may have rather more of each; one that works little should have less.

Rack feeding is wasteful. The better plan is to feed with chopped hay, from a manger, because the food is not then thrown about, and is more easily chewed and digested.

Sprinkle the hay with water that has salt dissolved it, because it is pleasing to the animal's taste, and more easily digested. A teaspoonful of salt in a bucket of water is sufficient.

Oats should be bruised for an old horse but not for a young one, because the former through age and defective teeth, cannot chew them properly; the young horse can do so, and they are thus properly mixed with the saliva and turned into wholesome nutriment.

EARLY GARDENS.—Have a little corner in your garden where the plow never comes, to be spaded up and planted as soon as the ground will permit, and long before the regular garden making season begins. A little hot bed, no larger than an ordinary window sash will cover, will make a great difference with your vegetables. Make a frame of boards the size of your sash, and stake it firmly to the ground. Throw out the inside earth to the depth of eighteen inches and fill nearly all with horse manure.—Cover this with three inches of rich soil, and plant a row of cabbage, one of tomatoes, peppers, cauliflowers and beets. Moisten with tepid water occasionally. The plants will be ready to remove to the main garden at an early date, and of course come to maturity much sooner than those early planted.—Rural American.

A ROW AND TRAGEDY AT BRISTOL.—A row, which resulted in a tragedy, occurred at Bristol on Saturday. We have the following particulars from an eye witness:—An East Tennessee bully named Jackson C. Booker with several of his friends, came to town, filled themselves with whiskey, and were chasing in a riotous and disorderly manner. The sheriff and town constable remonstrated with the party and requested them to be more orderly. The ruffians in turn abused the officers in an outrageous manner and defied them. The constable, Mr. J. C. Hammer, attempted to arrest one of the gang, a brother of Jack Booker. He called on his brother for assistance, when the latter came up with a pistol in each hand, and commenced firing on the constable, while the rest of the party pelted him with stones. After Booker had emptied both of his pistols, Mr Hammer commenced firing on him, and succeeded in placing two or three balls in him, which proved immediately fatal. Hammer was shot through the arm and beaten with stones and clubs, but succeeded in his crippled condition, in arresting all the party engaged in the row.—Lynchburg Virginian.

The barn of Dr. William Gwathmey, of Burlington, King William county, was burned on Thursday night last, with seventy-five barrels of corn belonging to him and forty barrels belonging to the negroes working with him, together with his farming implements. Loss $1,000, and no insurance. Supposed to have been burnt by a negro who had a grudge against one of the negro owners.

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

SATURDAY, MAY 29, 1869.

OPPRESSION IN GRANVILLE.

The sure way to make a people love their government is for the government to be lovely.

When the tobacco factories of this county were closed, by order of Gen. Bennett, and the new act enforced, with regard to tax on tobacco, fifteen hundred negroes were thrown out of employment. Many of them went to Orange and other counties. Tobacco factories in Orange, have been recently closed.

This seizure and closing up of factories, is a stunning blow, not only to the negro, but to the whole community, white and black, old and young.

The cotton planters have received their money for last year's crop. Not so with the tobacco grower; his crop is just now ready for market; his proper and natural market is closed, by closing the factories. Some of them may have violated the revenue law, but it is well understood that they were not seized at first on that account, for propositions are said to have been made, that if $20,000 were paid down, the factories seized should be released.

Section 64, of the act of Congress, concerning the manufacture of tobacco, reads thus:

SEC. 64. And be it further enacted, That within thirty days after the passage of this act every manufacturer of tobacco and snuff shall place and keep on the side or end of the building within which his business is carried on, so that it can be distinctly seen, a sign, with letters thereon not less than three inches in length, painted in oil colors or gilded, giving his full name and business. Any person neglecting to comply with the requirements of this section shall, on conviction, be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

We learn that the letters on Mr. Daniel S. Osborn's sign were not quite three inches long, because of that, his factory was seized and closed; he paid $1,000 to have it released, and his factory is now closed.—From what Capt. Isaac Young, the present collector, tells of the character of Mr. Osborn, of Oxford, we think there is no probability, that they will show he has violated the law, except, in the length of the letters on his sign.

A Granville farmer sold his crop of tobacco, in this city on yesterday, instead of at home to factories close by his barn.—Three days from home, with his horses and wagon, at this season, is a heavy tax on this farmer. Such oppression elsewhere than in the South, would make a revolution. Who dare say after this we are not loyal and obedient to the government.

CONSOLIDATION MEETING AT NEWBERN—THE WAY CLEARED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS TO GET THERE.

Stones thrown in the way by President Smith:

PRESIDENTS OFFICE, N. C. R. R. Co., Company Shops, May 10, 1869.

TO AGENTS.

Stockholders who may desire to attend the meeting advertised by E. R. Hawly, President A. & N. C. R. R., to take place at Newbern on 2nd. June next, will apply at this office for passes or they will be charged full fare.

W. A. SMITH, President.

If they are so charged, they can sue the Road, and recover the money paid against the express order and resolution of the Board, as published above.

LET US HAVE PEACE.

The Chicago Republican says that the nominations for Federal offices in that city have been influenced more by Gen. Grant's brother than by gentlemen whose long connection with the politics of the State and nation more eminently qualify them for this delicate and important duty. It further says:

It is a very ungracious and unpleasant task that we find devolving upon us, when we feel compelled to enter our earnest protest against a system of disposing of important national offices, which is not only foreign to the genius of republican institutions, but which in time must affect most disastrously both the Republican party and the administration. * * *

We cannot bring ourselves to believe that General Grant can possibly imagine that he can carry on his administration on ideas founded upon personal or family considerations. We cannot for a moment suppose that he thinks he can carry on this Government not only without the aid, but in the face of the leaders of the Republican party, which has elected him to his position.—If, unfortunately, these are his beliefs and intentions, then we can only say that his administration must prove a most lamentable failure, unless he can succeed in establishing a dynasty founded upon personal and family considerations and ideas upon the ruins of what was a republican form of government.

More in sorrow than in anger, we are compelled to enter our protest and record our solemn warning against the most suicidal attempt to turn the United States of America into a mere instrument for personal and family aggrandizement.

Lady Correspondence.

CALDWELL CO., N. C., May 24, 1869.

MR. TURNER:—I read, with pleasure, your just criticism of Pollard's book, in the Sentinal of the 19th inst. You regretted that you did not have the casualties of the 14th and 26th Regiments of N. C. I happened to have an extract from the Fayetteville Observer, (posted in a war scrap book,) which I have copied for you; Co. I of the 26th, was from this county, and at one time numbered about 110. After the surrender, the men who survived were counted and so far as I have been able to ascertain, five live. I also enclose a scrap from an old Standard, issued about the 20th of July, 1863.

Respectfully, &c.,

THE 26TH. REGIMENT.

The heroism displayed by this Regiment has few parallels in the world's history.—Out of 750 men who went into the battle of Gettysburg, less than 100 came out unharmed, 88 killed, 483 wounded, and 87 missing, the missing, being, in the language of the lamented Gen. Pettigrew, "on the battle field and in the hospital." The world renowned charge at Balaklava was not more daring than that of the 26th, when as the same General said "it drove three and we have every reason to belive five Regiments out of the woods with a gallantry unsurpassed." Balaklava was less fatal to the 600, than Gettysburg to the 750. The Spartans who followed and fell with Leonidas at Thermopylæ, only excelled the brave North Carolinians in the proportion of the killed, not in the devotion to their country, which made them fearlessly meet wounds and death for her sake. History will immortalize the 26th. N. C. Regiment unless she uses the pen of some imitator of the Yankee bookmakers, who could see valor and virtue only in their own base section.—Fayetteville Observer.

JAMES MARMADUKE WILLIAMS, son M. D. Williams, Esq., was born in Chatham county, N. C., Feb. 4th, 1843, and fell in the charge on Gettysburg Heights, on the night of July 2d, 1863, aged 20 years, 4 months and 28 days.

How painful indeed it must be to the parents and friends of one so young and promising, to hear that life's brittle thread has been cut; but it is a consolation to know that he fell where the brave wish to die, in the dashing charge. "Jim Brown," as he was always called by his fellow-soldiers, enlisted in Capt. York's company, Feb. 20th, 1862, and during the campaign of that year, owing to sickness, participated but little. He was of exceedingly delicate constitution, so much so that he was scarcely fit for service; but when we left Fredericksburg, so confident was he that we were going across the river, that he divested himself of all baggage with his rifle and cartridge box, determined to go with the company as long as he could march, and much to the surprise of all, he was at Gettysburg, and never shall we forget his rich sallies of wit, his side-splitting jokes, and rich description of how the Pennsylvania Dutch issued rations of light bread, butter milk and onions. Always gay and lively, polite in his manners, and strict in the discharge of his military duties, he had become not only the pet of his company, but of his regiment. Gallant in action and reckless of danger, he feared not to follow where the colors went.—In the fight of July 1st, he was very conspicuous, and his race after a Yankee, carrying two stands of colors, was not only amusing and exciting, but gallant. On the night of the 2d, we were ordered to charge the heights which were protected by the famous rock wall, and just as he reached the first fence, he was struck by a solid shot on the right leg, completely shattering his whole right leg in a shocking manner. After our return, we found him lying where he was struck, suffering intense pain. When his Captain asked how he was, he said "I must die and I only want some chloroform to die easy; for I am suffering severely. When it was proposed to carry him back a little ways to the temporary hospital, he replied, "No, I want to die here on the field.—Captain, I glory in the spunk of company "I." I have tried to do my duty, I heard you on the heights, and wish I could have been there. I have no fears of death; I believe that all is well with me. Tell mother I fell in defence of her home, and did the best I could for her. I am willing to die, for I expect my time has come.—No word, sigh or murmur of regret escaped his lips. He patiently bore his intense suffering without a groan. When the pickets were thrown out and he knew he would be beyond our lines, he consented to be carried back, where he lingered for an hour, perfectly conscious and conversing freely all the while. His last words to his Captain, were, "Good-bye, Captain, I hope we will meet in a better world. Tell all the boys good-bye for me, and tell them I glory in the spunk of company "I." He knew when his last moment had come, and putting his head in his brother's lap and telling him good-bye—died as he had lived, a good and gallant soldier. May the sod lie light on his breast, for no more gallant soldier sleeps beneath the soil of Pennsylvania.

IS TREASON ODIOUS OR LOYALTY AT A DISCOUNT.

Judge Dick, Judge Thomas, Governor Holden, and Blow-Your-Horn Billy, will have a better understanding of the immensity of the work they have undertaken, in making treason odious, when they read our correspondent from Caldwell. The correspondent is a lady. Her husband is sure enough loyal; none of your bastard loyalty, such as the above named signers of the ordinance of secession boast of. His loyalty led him to fight under the stars and stripes.

We have no personal acquaintance with our lady correspondent; but, if she keeps such mementos and reminders of the "lost cause" about her, how can these apostates from secession teach her to make treason odious.

The Radical "loyal" above named, all signed the ordinance of secession; they pledged their "lives, fortunes and sacred honor" to make secession good. Holden, the day after signing and pledging, in the Standard, made an additional pledge of the "last man and the last dollar" to make secession good, and as a token of earnest he entered his son Jo in the army, because Jo was a minor, an infant in the eyes of the law, and Dad could have kept his darling out if he had been so inclined.

While all this was going on in Wake, Company "I" was forming in Caldwell, 110 strong, only five of whom now survive the death-struggle to make secession good. We can't think that Holden and his followers are all infidels, yet how can they expect to meet Company "I" in that other and better world. How can they meet the five survivors of the Company, even in this world. The transition of these apostates from secession is too sudden and violent. The only requisite for making it is utter want of sensibility of shame.

When the 105 of Company "I" perished in the fight, the tongues of Dick, Thomas, Holden and Smith, were eloquent in praise of their virtues and deeds; now their deeds and memories, under the style of treason, must be made odious.

"SCRAP FROM THE STANDARD."

The "scrap" from the Standard describing the heroism, suffering and death of James W. Williams, is too well calculated to keep alive and soften the emotions of the heart, not only of woman but of man.

The scene of Williams' struggle with the foe and then with death, is only one of the thousands which the survivors of the war, now look upon with wonder, admiration and grief. When Holden, Dick, and General Longstreet can make the graves of Williams and Stonewall Jackson odious, then they have hardly begun their work.

There are yet, the graves of Pettigrew, Branch, Daniel, Ramseur and Shaw, and of two hundred thousand of the nameless dead who perished to make good the pledge of Holden, Dick, Thomas and Company, to be worked upon. Treason cannot be made odious by these signers of the ordinance, so long as the women keep such "scraps" in their scrap books, and look upon them as they would upon the miniature of a dear lost friend, which should be kept for secret looks and solitary enjoyment.

EDITORIAL RESPONSIBILITY.

We have but a short answer for the note of Mr. W. A. Smith, President of the North Carolina Railroad. This morning's mail brought us two letters and a communication for publication from the pen of Mr. Smith. We give the most important first:

COMPANY SHOPS, May 28, 1869.

Josiah Turner, Jr., Esq, Raleigh, N. C:

DEAR SIR:—Do you hold yourself responsible for the article signed Frank Barnum in your issue of the 27th instant. An early answer is requested.

Respectfully,
W. A. SMITH,

We take to ourselves a proper degree of shame in saying, we are responsible to Mr. Smith, and the public, for the publication of Mr. Barnum's letters, and with equal shame, we acknowledge our responsibility to Mr. Barnum, for having published Mr. Smith's letter about him.

In Mr. Smith's letter of the 14th of May it will be seen he take no responsibility upon himself for calling Barnum "by nature a liar and a coward," but he puts the whole responsibility upon that mammoth corporation, the North Carolina Rail Road Company, of which Billy Henderson is one of the Directors.

If he had given Barnum a note of hand for one thousand dollars, and signed W. A. Smith, President, it would not have bound him individually, but the corporation.

We do not admire the style or spirit with which Mr. Smith binds a whole corporation to calling a gentleman a "liar and a coward."

Mr. Smith will bear in mind that we disclaim all responsibility for the publication of Dr. Grissom's card.

The Standard is answerable for that, as well as for the publication of that vilest of all vile articles, called "Work." If we bore malice, we would publish the Doctor's card by way of punishing and degrading him.—We leave the Doctor's card and the article "Work," to the reflection of their unscrupulous authors, for we are as little hurt by the one, as the ladies were by the other.

We conclude what we have to say on Editorial responsibility, by publishing Mr. Smith's second letter and reply to Mr. Barnum, hoping that we shall not have to bear the responsibility of any more such correspondence:

COMPANY SHOPS, May 28th, 1869.

Josiah Turner, Jr., Esq,
Editor Sentinel,
Raleigh, N. C:

DEAR SIR: You will please publish the enclosed communication, signed by myself, in reply to the cowardly attack of one Frank Barnum. If my private note to him had been published by me, I would not ask the favor. But it was a private note written to him, and not the public. Such matters as this, I generally settle privately, and in a different manner. If Barnum was here, I would not trouble you with this communication.

Respectfully Yours,
W. A. SMITH.

COMPANY SHOPS, May 28th. 1869.

Editor Sentinal, Raleigh, N. C.—A friend called my attention this morning to an article published in your paper of 27th, inst. signed "Frank Barnum," in which article the writer evidently exhibits the bitterness and meanness of his heart. Yet I must confess that I am not the least surprised at any thing of a corrupt character emanating from his pen, especially, after his malicious attack upon the management of the N. C. Rail Road published in the Giraffe, of the 6th. of May, and his application for a free pass over the Road the 13th. of May. Abusing, slandering and detracting from the character of the Road on the 6th. inst., and seven days afterwards begging for a free pass over the same road is betraying a weakness and corruption in human nature in which it is difficult to instance a parallel of like character. So astonished was I to find anything in the shape of a human being so detestable, that upon the reception of his note on 13th. of May I wrote him the following note designed entirely as of a PRIVATE CHARACTER, and with a view of discarding any further intercourse with him whatever.

COMPANY SHOPS, N. C., May 14th. 1869

Mr. Frank Barnum, Editor Giraffe Raleigh, N. C., Dear Sir.—Your letter of 13th. inst., to Mr. Johnson Superintendent of this Road has been referred to me. You have been begging for a pass for several months, you have been refused time and again, and to continue to beg for a pass after writing the article of the 6th. inst., in your DIRTY sheet, shows your impudence only equals your MEANNESS, and that you are by nature a coward and a liar.

W. A. SMITH, President.

Now, this man had ample time after the reception of this note to have answered me privately, or publicly before he left North Carolina, but having been associated with the Giraff, an animal celebrated for leaping, he suddenly leaps from North Carolina into Georgia, where he manufactures an article as coarse, as ugly, and as loathsome as his wicked heart could devise. Why did he not publish that article in North Carolina? Why act so cowardly? Simply from the fact that he knew if he had published the article of the 27th inst., in a North Carolina journal, and had been here in person, that he would have received a cowhiding.

To beg a free pass over a Railroad, to be refused and then to grow angry, and pervert your own language, and even make a denial of your own request is evidence sufficient to condemn you as unreliable, hypocritical and miserably corrupt.

The people of Atlanta, especially gentlemen, would do well to keep an eye on this fellow "Barnum."

He left North Carolina so fast that my "dogs," that I used to catch secesh deserters with, would have failed as to him.

W. A. SMITH.

RESIGNATION OF GEN. L. G. ESTES.—Gen. Estes, one of the Representatives from New Hanover county, has resigned his seat in the Legislature, an election to fill the vacancy will be held next September.—Wilmington Star.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM BILLY BARLOW.

CHAPPLE HILL,
Week afore Kummensment.

MISTER TURNER:—I hev ben so onmerciful bizzy a persuin of nollidge up and down the classic star-cases of this grate institoo shun, that I hev not had time to tell you about our great sillibrashun of the 20th of May. Sur, hit wus a grate occashun, and I want to tell you all about it, so it kin go down the visty ov futur gineyrations to our latest ancestors.

As I was a saying of my spellin lesson to Docter November, (you see I hev made a great improvement in spellin,) about two weeks ago, says he, "Mister Barlow, thar is to be a great publick mettin of the stoodunts to morrow to commemorate the Mecklenburg dickleyration of independence, which sot the grate ball a rollin, which has kept a rollen ever sense, a pickin up of every thing hit comes to, till it has rolled into this Southern latitood an picked up the niggers and sot 'em all free. You must prepar some remarks, for they will surtenly call on you for a speech." "Musrats and scorripons!" says I, "how am I to make a speach about sumthin I never hearn tell of sense I was born?" Says the Doctor, "Never mine that; I'le give you the pints;" so he went on to tell me all about it; how our foreparrents cum together in the town of Mecklinburg, which is in the county of Sharlot, at the fur eend of Mister Smith's Railroad; and how they then made the immortal dickleraytion which Mister Jefferson writ out in Filly Delly the next year, that all men is born free an equal, (especially black men.)

Well, the nex day, sho nuf, the stoodunts assembled at the ringing of the bell, an two little cullered gals that was goin strawberry huntin cum into see what was gwine on. The perfessers modestly tuk thar seats in the gallery, and the stoodunts ockerpied the body of the Chapple. One was called to the cheerr, another was appinted sickretterry, three more was appinted a kummittey to draw up rizzerlooshuns; and then I was requested to entertain the audience, consistin of one stoodunt an the two little cullered galls, with a speech. The kummittey went out to the well;—I dunno what they went thar fur, unless it was to draw up the rizzerlooshons out'a the well,—and I riz to my feet and sed, says I, "Mister Presidint an ladies an gentlemen, this is the universary of one of the most remarkablest days that ever riz upon this surlestial spere of human natcr. It is the universary of the day when our foreparrents made the dickleyrashun of independence, which you no is the same thing as the konstertooshun of the United States. But this day is mainly memorable for what was done in Rolly on the 20th of May 1861, when our galorious standard-bearer Guver Holden tuk the banner in his hand and becum the leader of the Republikin party. Sur, I seen him when he dun it—when he writ his name to the subscription list of the seseeders, sot himself down for the last dollar, and then hilt up the pen on high towards the ruf ov the house, and said he would keep it for a hair-loom for his prosperity forever! [Great applause, stoodunts punchin the flo with umbrils.] His excellency has got that pen yit; he writ his norgyral address with it, in which he sot forth the principles of republican liberty. (applause) That pen is a hair loom that weaves strate hair and kinky hair all together into the galorious fabric of our noble Konstertoo shun. (Great punchin of umbrils). That pen has writ the decree that treason shall be odious if the Guvner kin make it so, and that all the cullerd popperlashun is free and equal! (Immense applause—little cullerd gals drapt thar baskits and clapt thar hands, an one sed, glory!) Sur, when the Guvner writ his name to that subscripton, he showed the gratest morril courage in doin what every boddy else was a doin because he forseen that it would help his party. He explayed that same virtue of courage when he turned agin Jef Davis in the war, and showed he wernt afeard to jine the Yankees when they was about to gain the victory. He mannerfested the same heroic courage when he throwd himself into the arms of the cullerd popperlashun, an tole um he would be thar Guvner, no matter what white fokes thought of him. (Tremenjus applause.) It was the helth of sublimity when he said all his ole secesh frens orter be hung. No man is fitten to be the leader of a great party who is afeard to say what aint so pervided it will help the party! (Perlonged applause; little cullerd gals kicked the flo powerful.) Sum tokes calls it lyin, but I call it calumniating for party purposes. Ef Guvner Holden hadenter ben a calumniator, he could never have ben Guvner. Ef a man wants to be president of this mighty union, he must not only calumniate, but he must be ketched in it. That made the gallant Grant what he is,—He had the morril courage to calumniate to Andy Johnson about some apartment in Washington, and Andy ketched him in it. Sur from that very day he bekum the idol of our grate party, an when I name his name a feelin of joy crawls threw my sole, an I cant help it, sur, no more than I kin help a flea crawlin on my laig" (Tremenjus applause.

About that time the kummittey fotch in thar rizzylutions, an I desisted. I haint time to tell you about what was in 'em.

We are goin to hav a bully kummensement; we hev employed two banjoes at a fiddle for the bawl, and ef the orryter ov the day don't git here, I hev ben spoke to for deliver the address befo the two cersieties.

I kant klose without saying that I hear sumboddy has writ to yo paper, and insinivated that Perfesser Brewer has got buzzard blood in him. Sur, I reply, in the languidge of Demosthenes, when he laid the corner stone of the State ov Massy Chusits, "I deny the allegation, and I defy the allegator. Yourn respect,

BILLY BARLOW.

COLONEL HARRISON SHOT.—Colonel Walter Harrison was shot in a most singular manner yesterday afternoon, while conversing with some gentlemen nearly opposite the Spotswood Hotel. A report was heard, the sound indicating that it came from one of the gentlemen who were conversing together, and it was soon discovered that a ball had entered the leg of Colonel Harrison, inflicting a painful but not serious wound. It could not be ascertained who fired the shot.—Rich. Dispatch, May 28.

Sir John McDonald, who is worse than a blasted Briton, being a condemned Canuck, has dared to say, in a debate on the salary of the Governor-General of Canada, that in the United States low salaries have been found, in the long run, to be the highest.

Among the items received at Omaha by the first through freight train over the Pacific Railroad were three barrels of California wine. One of them was addressed to the President of the United States; another to an ex-Senator from California; and the third to Vice-President Huntington, of the Central Pacific Railroad Company. The shipment will reach Washington in thirteen days from Sacramento.

BLACKBERRIES OF TWO COLORS.—Wesley Avant, a well known colored man of our city, yesterday left at our office a specimen of white and dark blackberries, both of which grew on one bush. They are rare specimens of curiosity in our section.—Ib. May 28.

Explanatory Drawing.—The Drawing by the Real and Personal Estate Agency, anxiously looked for by persons who had taken stock, came off on Saturday, according to published programme. The weather was weeping, but the expectant people were not deterred by that, and went in numbers to Tucker Hall to watch the operation. A good deal of excitement was caused when the owners of lucky tickets claimed their prizes as their number was drawn.

J. M. Blair, Esq., of the Yarborough House, drew the $650 piano; Mr. Wesley Whitaker drew a $50 china set, and Mrs. Pepper, wife of the caterer, drew a $12 hearth rug. Very many of the tickets were sold out of town, and we have not the names of the holders. Every one was satisfied with the arrangements of the drawing, and this augurs well for the grand drawing of which this is explanatory."—Standard.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Sparkling Catawba Springs, Catawba County, N. C., will open on the 1st of June next.

Sale of valuable Land, and of one share of Chatham Railroad stock, and a lot of notes.

THE Editor of the Sentinel has accepted an invitation to deliver an address before the Franklin County Agricultural Society, on Saturday the 5th of June.

WHICH PLACE.—We now have two sites for the Penitentiary, one on Deep River, with 8,000 acres of land, in different bodies from 12 to 20 miles distant from each other, for this the State is out $100,000. The other can be found in rather close proximity to Mr. Boylan's house, in this city.

LITTLE CORPORAL.—The June number of this sprightly monthly is upon our table, brimful, as usual, of excellent reading matter for young people and old ones too.

WE ARE pained to learn that, on Thursday last, Dr. Jno. A. Walker, of Orange County, on returning home from a visit to his plantation and mill, was thrown from his buggy and instantly killed. His wife, who accompanied him, was also thrown out and very seriously injured. This sad accident was caused by the horse, attached to the buggy, taking fright at some object in the road and running away.

Dr. Walker was an excellent physician, a kind neighbor and useful citizen, and his sad and sudden death has cast a gloom over the community in which he resided.

Gen. L. G. Estes has resigned his seat in the State Legislature, and an election to fill vacancy has been ordered. He could not be a leader, and he is one of those who would rather rule in hell, than serve in heaven.—Exchange.

The State loses nothing by the resignation—let him go. If old Mr. Pennyman, of Pennsylvania, were here he would say "dit to," at the risk of being shot by Kilpatrick's man.

WE hope the young "fast and fancy" of this "Burg" will take warning by the following:

A man wearing a pair of spotted pantaloons took his siesta under a tree in the neighborhood of Madison, Ind. A German, who was out hunting, saw his leg hanging over a rock, and mistaking it for a huge boa constrictor fired a charge of shot into it.

WE find the following reproduced in the Wilmington Star, and give it without venturing to add any comments of our own.—As to its correctness, we leave those who have attended the "school of experience" to determine:

MARRIED MAN'S DIARY.—The following, though rather old, and therefore devoid of the graces of novelty, nevertheless retains the charms of correctness—that is in a few—very, very few cases. The diary which we clip from an exchange runs thus:

"Monday—a thick fog; no seeing through it. Tuesday—Gloomy and very chilly; unseasonable weather. Wednesday, Frosty; at times sharp. Thursday—Bitter cold in the the morning; red sunset, with flying clouds, portending hard weather. Friday—Storm in the morning, with peals of thunder; air clear afterward. Saturday—Gleams of sunshine, with partial thaw; frost again at night. Sunday—A slight south wester in the morning; calm and pleasant at dinner time; hurricane at night."

NOT ALL PROMINENT REPUBLICANS.—In our notice yesterday of the Excursion tendered the Honorable members of Congress, stopping in the city, our pen glided into an error which, had we known the circumstances, would not have occurred. We termed the whole "a party of prominent republicans," not knowing that several prominent "Rebs" were along.—Wil. Star.

Never mind Mr. Star, if Charley O'Neil of Wilson, hall met them at the landing, he would have surpassed the Governor in "cussing," the Rebs for keeping such Company. Charley is the man you know who cursed a distinguished lawyer of Wilson for walking the Streets with the Solicitor; scallawag Sherrard.

For the Sentinel.

LITTLETON, N. C. May, 27, 1869.

Mr. Editor:—Under the special Charter granted at the last session of the General Assembly, the "Littleton Manufacturing Company" organized at this place to-day.

The share holders fixed on ten thousand acres of land as the present limit of the capital stock of the Company, about seven thousand acres of which was subscribed by those present, and the residue is expected to be obtained very soon.

Gen. David Clark, Thomas W. Harris, George Little, Charles J. P. Alston and A. M. Johnston were elected Directors.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Thomas W. Harris, Esq., of Halifax County, was elected President of the Company.

The Board of Directors instructed the President to procure the services of a competent Engineer, to survey the route of the Turnpike Road, authorized by the Charter, to be constructed from some point on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, at or near Littleton, to Ransom's Bridge.

This enterprise is commenced under favorable auspices; and is controlled by gentlemen of high moral character, and business habits; it promises, therefore, to be not only successful and beneficial to their interests, but to the material interest of the country, in the introduction of immigration, fruit growing, and establishing, and sustaining various other industrial pursuits contemplated by this Company.

THE POLITICAL ANARCHY OF THE TIMES.

Nothing better illustrates the political anarchy to which we have been reduced by the Radical ascendency, than the late action in Indiana in regard to the Fifteenth Constitutional Amendment. The Constitution of that State prescribes that it shall require three-fifths of all the members of both Houses in order to transact any business whatever. Without the three-fifths the Houses can no more do any thing than if they were an unofficial body—a mass meeting.

Yet what do we see? The Republican majority in that body, under the inspiration of Senator Morton, have had the audacity to ratify, in plain and open disregard of the law which called them into being, an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, affecting not only Indians, but all her sister States. It is intended that the ratification shall be counted by the General Government, and as the vote will be a close one, it is very possible the amendment will be declared carried by this illegal and unconstitutional proceeding in Indiana.

In that event we shall have a fundamental law, the most important provision of which was imposed by fraud, bold and patent, upon the country, and which legally no one is bound to respect. The great question is, What shall we do about it? Are the people of the United States to submit quietly to this outrage? The changing of the Government from a republic into an empire would not be a greater. We may fairly conclude that any man who would acquiesce in the first would sumbit to the second. We are rapidly approaching the period when the manhood and the metal of the American people will be brought to a test. We must either preserve the Government or allow it to be destroyed by open usurpation. We have always been conservative in our views—inclined to submit to almost anything rather than run the risk of forcible revolution, with all the calamities which follow in its wake. But there are points beyond which forbearance ceases to be virtue, and when resistance, legal resistance, is the highest dictate of necessity.—That point has been reached by the pretended ratification of the Fifteenth Constitutional Amendment in Indiana. We do unhesitatingly recommend to the people, if such ratification is counted and carries the amendment, to pay no sort of attention to it to treat it as a nullity and a fraud. We give our Radical friends fair warning that the Indiana ratification, carried into effect against a majority of one hundred and fifty thousand people in that State, will not be submitted to, but be resisted to the last extent.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

STATE NEWS.

A STRANGE CASE.—A few weeks ago, Mr. William James, a citizen of this place, residing near the corner of Eighth and Worcester streets, was suddenly seized with a fit that seriously threatened his life. He slowly recovered, but strange to say has never spoken but once since the sad event, and has during the whole period been entirely deaf. Mr. James is apparently well with the exception of dumbness and deafness, and his condition bears a permanent aspect.—Wilmington Star.

THE RAPE CASE.—Yesterday James H. Abrams, charged with having attempted to commit a rape on Mrs. Eliza Jane King, was tried before Justice E. H. McQuigg.

In justice to the accused party, we will say the evidence was not so strong as we had been led to believe it would be; yet it was sufficiently strong to induce his imprisonment.—Ib. May 28.

The Alpha arrived up yesterday. All clear below.—Wil. Journal, 28th.

A rumor was afloat last night that the revenue cutter Moccasin has departed for Beaufort to intercept a privateer destined for Cuba, which the government authorities had found impossible to detain. The Moccasin did leave our waters yesterday morning for Beaufort, but we doubt that it was for such an object.—Ib.

Maj. J. C. Mann, has retired from the editorial management of the Wilmington Post.

The stable of the widow Stevens, on the Henderson road, a few miles from Asheville, was entered on Monday night, and a fine mule stolen. The thief closed and carefully secured the stable before he departed.—Asheville News.

MULE THIEF ARRESTED.—On last Thursday night, the stable of Mr. W. B. Smathers on Beaver Dam, was entered, and a valuable mule taken off. Discovering his loss next morning, Mr. S. at once started on the trail of the thief, and finally came up with the missing animal near Mr. Mont. Wells' place on Turkey Creek, some twelve or fifteen miles from where it had been stolen. Among other things carried off by the mule fancier, was a value filled with clothing and an overcoat belonging to a fellow workman. On Friday night a young man named Tucker, from Mitchell county, was apprehended on the charge, and subsequently lodged in Asheville jail.—Ib. May 27th.

THE LATE HAIL STORM.—The storm which raged in this, and adjoining counties some two or three weeks ago, appears to have been of extraordinary violence, and very devastating in its effects. About Beaver Dam, and on through a narrow belt of country extending across the South Carolina line, the rain fell as if the flood gates of heaven had been reopened for good, and the hail was of the largest size ever witnessed by "the oldest inhabitant." Trees were stripped perfectly clean of their foliage, while corn, tobacco, cabbage, lettuce, and other tender plants were destroyed. Some farmers were busily engaged last week replanting their corn. In the vicinity of Greenville, across the South Carolina line, out buildings were blown down, trees uprooted and fences levelled. One young man named Shockley was instantly killed by the building in which he happened to be asleep at the time being blown down upon him. A sister of the victim was also slightly injured. A gentleman from Haywood informs us that the folks in his neighborhood were so terribly frightened at the unprecedented violence of the hail, that prayer meetings were improvised in their houses, and for some twenty minutes there were more devout people about there, than there ever were before. Altogether it was an ugly storm, and well calculated to damage nerves, as well as corn and cabbages.—Asheville News.

BURGLARS IN THE CITY.—Burglars entered the house of Mr. H. Farthing, on Johnson Street, Wednesday night. The scoundrels entered the house through a window in a room where his daughters slept, one of them being very sick at the time, took a trunk from the room, and, after taking it out doors, robbed it of its contents. One of the young ladies, the one who was ill, was awake at the time, but could give no alarm. Every other room on the ground floor was ransacked. Mr. Farthing believes them to be white men. They are yet uncaught.

The same night, the house of Wm. P. Lego, on the same street, was entered, by bursting the bolt from the door. A lamp was broken, and other things disarranged, but as yet he has missed nothing from the house.—Newbern Times.

General News.

Open gambling is now permitted in New Orleans. The crowds that throng the places devoted to faro, keno, roulette, etc., are described as being highly heterogeneous, comprising respectable men and ruffians, old and young, lawyers, soldiers, sailors, clerks, mechanics, day laborers—men of all nationalities. The bankers and dealers of these gambling hells are a study. They have nearly all an impenetrable look—look of wearied and furtive respectability. A correspondent of the New York Express says he was puzzled for a long time to think where he had seen that type of face. Finally it flashed upon him that the outside goldboard in New York matched them almost man for man

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Revenue to-day nearly a million.

Negro Minister Bennett departs for Hayti on the 31 proximo.

The White House and the Departments will be closed to-morrow in honor of the decoration of soldiers' graves.

A full Cabinet to-day.

Boutwell replies to Fish, who applies at the instance of the British Minister, Thornton for the release of the Quaker City, that the vessel is in the hands of the Courts, which must now act without government interference.

The President has ordered the Confederate arsenal buildings at Macon, Ga., held by the Freedman's Bureau to be transferred to the Georgia Agricultural Society.

Major Wolford, of Mississippi, had a long interview to-day. He informed the President that the people of Mississippi unanimously desire the State's reconstruction, and will adopt the Constitution by an immense majority if the test-oath, disfranchisement and unjust features of the militia clauses be submitted to a separate ballot. He expressed the opinion that no Democrats will be run, but the best men from the Republican party will be elected by a large majority. He suggests the middle of August as the time for the election. There was no disposition by any number of citizens to oppose the administration, but the impulse was general to support the policy indicated in the inaugural address.

The President has expressed his satisfaction regarding the quiet and order in Mississippi—An election will not be ordered until after Virginia votes, but thought the middle of August or the 1st of September a good time. He said the points suggested by Wolford would be submitted to a separate vote, and probably one or two other clauses. Wolford departs homeward to-morrow, well satisfied with the result of his mission.

Gen. Beauregard's account with the War Department shows a small balance due him at the date of the acceptance of his resignations, which is withheld under the law of 1867.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 28.—The Convention was called to order at 11 o'clock, many members having early in the day paid a visit to the grain elevator and ice manufactory, did not convene earlier.

The following resolutions were offered by Gen. VanDover, of Iowa, seconded by Mr. J. T. Tucker, of Louisiana, and adopted:

1st. That the President of this Convention be requested to telegraph to the Secretary of War the request that the government dredge boat "Essayons" now at work at Pass a Loutre, at the mouth of the Mississippi, which in the opinion of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce, has already deepened the channel at said Pass from 11 to 17 feet, as per report of the Committee to the Convention, be permitted still to remain at work at the mouth of the river so to benefit the commerce of this whole valley by effectually deepening the channel on the bar at Pass a Loutre and keeping it to this depth, and to convey to the government the hearty thanks of this whole valley represented by this Convention, for the aid extended to and benefits rendered it by the work done so far, and to say that the necessities of the commerce of the whole West and South demand the continuance of the work by the "Essayons," and that the changes deemed necessary by the engineer in charge be made in her machinery.

2d. That this Convention most heartily appreciates the efforts made by the general government during the past three years for the improvement of the Mississippi river, and that the thanks of the Convention are hereby tendered to the engineers in charge, and their chief, for their earnest efforts to this end.

3d. That the thanks of this Convention be tendered to the central committee of river improvement convention of St. Louis for their earnest and successful efforts in this behalf.

The report of the committee to the Convention will probably conclude business before it, and adjourn to-day.

FROM RICHMOND

RICHMOND, May 28, M.—The colored State Convention adjourned to-day, after adopting a series of resolutions requesting Gen. Canby to give colored men representation upon benches of courts and in executive offices, and on juries of the State; urging Republican voters to vote for the Constitution framed by the late Convention; pledging the Convention to support the Welles ticket; thanking the people of the North for their benevolence in furnishing means for the education of colored children in the South; establishing co-operation with the National Convention, and hailing the appointment of Gen. Canby with joy.

Dr. Harries, colored candidate for Lieutenant Governor, addressed the body, and expressed a suspicion that some of the white Republican voters intended striking his name off the ticket on account of his color.

"The BROOKLYN LIFE has made no half-way work of the adoption of this inestimable feature. It is noteworthy, in this connection, as a merited tribute to the excellent Company (Brooklyn Life,) which has so gallantly raised the standard of reform in Life Insurance, that we find in the whole list of existing Companies, few competitors which deserve so much credit in respect of economy of management, or care, skill and judgment in the selection of risks."—INS. Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are of a truly marvellous character. Inveterate cases of Scrofula, where the system seemed utterly given up to corruption, have yielded to this compound of anti-strumous virtues. Disorders of a scrofulous type, and affections which are merely aggravated by the presence of scrofulous matter, have been radically cured in such numerous instances, in every settlement in the country, that the public do not need to be informed here that it is in the best power a specific and absolute remedy.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver. These facts make the occasional use of the Sarsaparilla as a preventive, advisable.

It is a mistake to suppose that so long as no eruptions or humors appear, there must be no scrofulous taint. These forms of derangement may never occur, and yet the vital forces of the body be so reduced by its subtle agency, as materially to impair the health and shorten the duration of life. It is a common error, also, that scrofula is strictly hereditary. It does, indeed, descend from parent to child, but is also engendered in persons born of pure blood. Low living, intemperance, foul air, filthiness, habits, uncleanliness, and the depressing vices generally, produce it. Weakly constitutions, where not glutted by the most constant and judicious care, are peculiarly liable to it. Yet the robust, also, whose purified blood swells the veins with an apparently exuberant vitality, are often contaminated, and on the road to its consequences. Indeed, no change of condition can depend on immunity from it, nor feel insensible to the importance of an effectual remedy.

In St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Ears and Eyes, and other scrofulous or virulent forms of the diseases caused primarily by the scrofulous infection, the Sarsaparilla is so efficient as to be indispensable. And in the more constitutional forms, as in Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and other affections of the muscular and nervous systems, the same principle, through its purifying power, removes the cause of the disorder and produces astonishing cures.

The unfavorable rest of the tropics does not by itself relieve these results. It is aided by the extracts combined with it, of still greater power, to counteract the action of healing virulent, Syphilitic or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these diabolical maladies by any medicine. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases in general, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by the invigorating and purifying effect of our Sarsaparilla. Rheumatism and Gout, often dependent on the accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, have their remedy also in this medicine. For Liver Complaints, torpidity, inflammation, abscess, etc., caused by rankling poisons in the blood, we unhesitatingly recommend the Sarsaparilla.

This medicine restores health and vigor where no specific disease can be distinguished. Its restorative power is soon felt by those who are Languid, Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and filled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or who are troubled with any other of those affections symptomatic of weakness. Many, after taking it for General Debility, have written us of the youthful vigor imparted to their nervous system, which seemed buoyant with that prolific life they thought had departed on the advance of age. Others, whose fountains of life were always sterile, acknowledge their obligations to it for an obvious change.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,
For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is neither followed by any paralysis. The manner and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of medicine. Our power to guarantee by the warrantments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

YOUR MISSION.

If you cannot on the ocean
Sail among the swiftest fleet,
Rocking on the highest billows,
Laughing at the storms you meet,
You can stand among the sailors
Anchored yet within the bay;
You can lend a hand to help them
As they launch their boats away.

If you are too weak to journey
Up the mountains, steep and high,
You can stand within the valley
While the multitudes go by;
You can chant in happy measures
As they slowly pass along;
Though they may forget the singer,
They will not forget the song.

If you have not gold and silver
Ever ready to command,
If you cannot toward the needy
Reach an ever open hand,
You can visit the afflicted,
O'er the erring you can weep;
You can be a true disciple,
Sitting at the Saviour's feet.

If you cannot in the conflict,
Prove yourself a soldier, too;
If, where fire and smoke are thickest,
There's no work for you to do;
When the battle-field is silent,
You can go with silent tread;
You can bear away the wounded;
You can cover up the dead.

Do not, then, stand idly waiting
For some greater work to do;
Fortune is a lazy goddess,
She will never come to you;
Go and toil in any vineyard,
Do not fear to do and dare;
If you want a field of labor,
You can find it anywhere.

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD,
OFFICE OF CHIEF ENGINEER,
Asheville, May 6th 1869.
PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED AT THIS office until the 10th of June next, for the Graduation, Masonry, Bridge Superstructure and Ballasting of one hundred miles of this Road, including (45) miles of the Branch Road down the French Broad river. This, the Western Division of the Road, extends from Asheville westward towards Chattanooga (135) one hundred and thirty-five miles, and a north west branch towards Cincinnati (45) forty-five miles. To contractors, this work presents attractive features, consisting of tunnelling and other rock excavations, crossing several mountain ranges, besides a large amount of bridge masonry. All of which is accessible to the contractor, being for the most part near the turnpike roads leading from Asheville. Maps, plans, profiles and specifications will be ready after the 20th of May for inspection.
All necessary information in regard to the work may be obtained at this office upon application.

LIFE INSURANCE.
NATIONAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
Chartered by Special Act of Congress, Approved July 25th, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL,
$1,000,000,
PAID IN FULL.
It is no longer a question with any man, who tenderly loves his wife and children, who considers how helpless would be their condition in case of his death, as to the duty of taking out a LIFE POLICY, but as to which Company he shall pay his money.
If he reflects a moment he will conclude to patronize the Company which shows the greatest degree of vitality, which extends its business over the largest area, which is a Home Company in every locality; which furnishes insurance at the least cost; which issues no policies that are forfeitable should he be unable next year, or any subsequent year to pay his renewal; and which is undoubtedly able to meet ALL ITS PROMISES.
With these feelings and views, he looks over the newspapers, and, by the time he gets through reading the advertisements of Mutual or Mixed Companies, he finds his mind so muddled that he is at a loss where to go or what to do. He can not comprehend one-half that is written, and concludes that none but ACTUARIES, who are familiar with the principles upon which Life Insurance is based can comprehend or explain anything about dividends and his liability for notes given in part payment of premiums. In his dilemma, he looks into the plan adopted by the
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
U. S. A.,
and finds just what he wants:
An ALL-CASH PLAN, reduced to the LOWEST MINIMUM Rate, like any commodity in Market, so much Insurance for so much Money. No notes to give; no interest to pay; no anxiety about Assessments; no apprehension of his Policy being forfeited next year if he does not pay his annual Renewal; and the RATES so much LOWER than other Companies, that he realizes a larger Dividend, IN ADVANCE, than other Companies can pay him in the future.
He finds that, instead of this UNCERTAIN PROMISE, and present high rate, that the NATIONAL
presents a certain and definite sum for a much lower rate, and puts up its paid up Capital of $1,000,000
as a guarantee fund, that its contracts will be fulfilled, and, like thousands of others, cheerfully calls on their Agent to make his application for a Policy. Hence the unprecedented and most wonderful success of the NATIONAL as contrasted with the older and Mutual Companies.
The Company issued its first policy on the 1st of August, 1868, and up to March 1st, 1869, it had issued 3,592 policies.
Amount insured, $10,005,500.00
Total Premiums, 350,117.59
The whole number issued by the Connecticut Mutual in the first year of its existence was 392
By the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey, 698
" New England Mutual, 343
" Phoenix Mutual, 335
" Massachusetts Mutual, 312
" Equitable of New York, 277
The Mutual Life, of New York, in the first year of its existence, only issued 470 policies.
In its 10th year, 1,260 "
And in its 20th year, 2,842 "
this latter being 690 less than was issued by the NATIONAL in its first seven months.

CAPITAL OF THE STATE,
Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

CAUTION! WE desire to warn the dealers in, and consumers of Snuff generally, that since the war, certain Tobacco Manufacturers, being unable to find a market for their snuffs, felt themselves obliged to counterfeit the general appearance of our packages, and imitate our Trade Marks so that a close inspection is necessary to detect the spurious article from the genuine, and others going so far as to assert that "Lorillard's Snuff is no longer made."
In making this publication we desire to warn the public against the impositions practiced upon them, as they are the losers thereby. It will be found, upon comparison, that Lorillard's snuff is "far ahead" of all others, being made of the best stock, after an original and secret process known only to ourselves, besides possessing great age, strength and pungency, and is warranted not to contain any dangerous or deleterious substances, which cannot be said of many worthless articles put on sale by others. The best is the cheapest in the end. A circular will always be mailed on application. In ordering please specify if Salt Snuff (High Toast,) or Fresh Snuff (Extra Scotch) is desired.

MISCELLANEOUS
NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES
WITHOUT LABOR.
THE AUTOMATIC
CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.
THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any Stove or Range, in any boiler, and the LOW PRICE of the article places it within the reach of every family.
This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.
The hot suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest lace to the tea-towel. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.
The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric, thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.
Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.
The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.
No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOOMIS & BROTHER'S, and see its wonderful operations.—We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the state.
